New Testament Passage: John 19:25-37

John's crucifixion scene includes the unique details that Jesus' mother Mary and the "beloved disciple" were present at the crucifixion, that Jesus was served wine, and that blood and water flowed from him when his side was pierced. I will do a narrative critical study of the links between this scene and the first "sign" in the gospel, the turning of water to wine at Cana, the only other scene where Jesus' mother is present in this gospel.
